Aim of Activity *

The aim of this activity is to increase consumer and healthcare provider awareness in relation to the available After Hours services.

This will help maximise the utilisation of the After Hours Primary Health Care service and will support efforts in reducing low acuity Emergency Department presentations.

Description of Activity *

The After Hours Consumer Awareness Campaign will increase consumer and healthcare provider awareness of After Hours services available in their community and improve patient health literacy on the appropriate health services to access in the after hours period through:

- Participation in local community events and awareness activities to provide educational resources relating to health care access
- Engaging with various community groups, frontline service providers, General Practitioners and Allied Health providers
- Online social media campaigns promoting locally available after hours health care services
- Stakeholders engagement activities and events
- Ongoing engagement with the After Hours Advisory Committee formed with local representatives from various disciplines such as Aged Care, Medical Deputising Services, WSLHD, NSW Ambulance Service, Mental Health Services and Primary Care

Activity Priorities and Description

Program Key Priority Area *

Population Health

Other Program Key Priority Area DescriptionAim of Activity ***

The main aims of this activity are:

1. To collectively deliver 'one Western Sydney health system' which is value-based and patient-centred
2. To deliver the right care, at the right time and in the right place – in community and primary care wherever possible
3. To improve equity in health, reducing health risks, promote healthy lifestyles and respond to social determinants

Description of Activity *

Western Sydney Care Collective (Collaborative Commissioning initiatives)

This activity and transformation will be underpinned by:

- A core partnership between the PHN/LHD to lead change at the local level, focusing health care around local priority population health needs with local resources
- New care pathways that are designed to create greater integration of care in the community and across providers to deliver the right care, in the right place at the right time
- Opportunities to strategically deploy existing resources already delivering care in the community and embed these into integrated care pathways while allowing local decision making to ensure identified gaps in service delivery can be commissioned. The project will continue to provide referral pathways with primary health providers, after hours medical services and NSW

Ambulance for stable patients requiring acute support in their home setting or familiar environment, including Residential Aged Care Facilities (RACFs) as an alternative to hospital admission.

This service is beneficial to more vulnerable groups such as older people and RACF residents by improving the capacity of RACFs and other organisations to work collaboratively with general practice and primary health care organisations to foster innovation and local models of care to support patient access to appropriate health care and avoid unnecessary transfer to the Emergency Department (ED).

The project will include the expanded version of After Hours coverage to include all WSLHD hospital facilities (n=4) and ALL RACFs (n=62) and General Practices across Western Sydney. Scope for NSW will be increased so that referral is available to all paramedics/extended care paramedics operating within the WSLHD LGA boundaries. This work amplifies system-wide improvement initiatives occurring across the LHD/PHN partnership, ensuring After Hours coverage is considered within the change model.

Activity Demographics

Target Population Cohort

The target population will be the vulnerable and at risk population in the community which could potentially benefit from services such as community-based response teams and mobile imaging. The expansion of the HiTH program will enable increased access for general practices and our Patient Centred Medical Homes (PCMH) network to utilise these services and provide the support required for patients in their place of residence where possible.

The activity models and enablers have been deliberately chosen to: reduce Emergency Department category 4 & 5 presentations; reduce siloes of care in the community; and increase the breadth of services provided by PCMHs. This will integrate care and alleviate ED and hospital demand for these patients while accelerating the transformation of primary care to take on additional models of care in the future.

Activity Consultation and Collaboration

Consultation

Consultation and Co-design (in the form of workshops) are regularly conducted with clinicians, allied health, consumer representatives, General Practitioners and other key stakeholders to develop processes that will support the care of patients in the community setting.

Collaboration

Below is a list and description of the role of each stakeholder that will be involved in designing and/or implementing the activity;-

- Western Sydney Local Health District: Strategic Governance and coordination of hospital clinicians and services participation
- Local Primary Healthcare Providers: Participation in working groups, pathway feedback and reviews
- National and State Peak Bodies: Peak bodies are often engaged in the development of pathways providing up to date research, condition-specific management guidelines, and national and state health programs.
- Local community health groups
- WS Partnership Committees: These committees will play a key role in helping to shape and design the services to be commissioned based on their experiences and needs. Representatives from these committees may also form part of the independent tender evaluation panel which evaluates successful applicants.
- NSW Ambulance: Development of referral pathways to the service through NSW Ambulance
- Community services: These services provide ongoing advice and feedback.
- Consumers: Organisations are required to obtain consumer input into the design of their proposed projects. A consumer representative will also be present as part of the independent tender evaluation panel.
