Aim of Activity *

The aim of this activity is to support the delivery of culturally appropriate primary health care to ensure the needs of these communities are met.

Description of Activity *

The WSPHN will continue to expand its Refugee health focus whilst ensuring culturally appropriate and safe environments within western Sydney. Due to the complex nature of this activity WSPHN will employ a Cultural Support Officer to independently guide and coordinate the multifaceted nature of Refugee Health and social and emotional wellbeing services in the area.

Critical success factors for this function will be neutrality, the ability for this person to move across health sectors and current structures in the WSLHD and the Refugee sector, ensure engagement of the community, cross-sector partnerships and manage change.

WSPHN will work to improve access to culturally appropriate, integrated primary care services for refugees by recruiting a Cultural Support Officer to:

1. Work collaboratively with local migrant and settlement support services
2. Provide cultural input into the work of primary health providers including strengthening links with CALD communities
3. Increase the capacity of refugee-friendly primary care providers to work together to provide integrated care
4. Assist in the delivery of educational activities for primary care providers
5. Provide cultural and linguistic input into health promotional initiatives
6. Improve equity of access and health literacy to meet the needs of the culturally diverse population.
7. Participate in the western Sydney Refugee Health Coalition to identify emerging issues and co-design possible solutions
8. This service will continue to improve patient outcomes through working collaboratively with WSLHD and health professionals and services to integrate and facilitate a seamless patient experience.

Providing information about health care utilisation across the primary and tertiary care sectors by linking datasets. This activity investigates patterns of health service utilisation longitudinally and across existing data siloes, which assists and informs health system planning.

Description of Activity *

The project, now entering a staged rollout across NSW, will continue to explore further the ability to utilise and link general practice data to multiple NSW Health and Commonwealth related data sets. The results will provide information that will:

- Increase General Practitioner understanding of the care of their patient cohort as they navigate the health system.
- Provide an in-depth understanding of a large cohort of patients as they interact with primary and tertiary care providers across a 5 year period.

Outcomes include a dataset in which GP EHR can be linked to administrative health data of NSW Ministry of Health, and death registrations, MBS, PBS, mental health, AOD, MDS and from Registry of Births, Deaths and Marriages to better inform quality and continuity of care.

Activities over the next three years include:

- Expanding the project in terms of reach by scaling up to 65 general practices across the three years
- Expanding the project in terms of frequency of data transfer to become both automated and occur at regular periods.
- Improved reporting to participating practices with in-depth analysis of linked data.

Stakeholder Engagement

Aim of Activity *

To increase the efficiency and effectiveness of stakeholder engagement, particularly to improve coordination of care to ensure residents of western Sydney receive the right care in the right place at the right time.

An important aspect of this activity is to embed the voice of the consumers, community and stakeholders across the work of the WSPHN. To ensure that consumers and members of the wider community have the skills, resources and opportunities to influence and drive the health services priorities in the region.

Description of Activity *

In order to achieve the primary objectives of the WSPHN, partnering with local GPs, the LHD and other agencies that impact on both the physical and social determinants of health is a vital component. WSPHN will continue to engage with a wide range of groups and organisations to identify opportunities to broaden current partnerships and identify new possibilities to achieve the priorities included in the Needs Assessment.

WSPHN plays an important role in the Western Sydney Strategic Delivery Reform (WSSDR) group with representation on both the Strategic and Operational groups. WSSDR is a collaboration of NSW Government Agencies and the PHN with a specific agenda to improve multi-agency responses to child and family issues in Western Sydney.

WSPHN also participates with the Partnership Advisory Committee (PAC) with the WSLHD and the Sydney Children’s Hospitals Network (SCHN) to promote and encourage health agency partnerships in western Sydney. This includes participation in the sub-committees of the PAC – Child & Family Steering Committee, Aged Care, Chronic and Complex, Aboriginal and Mental Health.

The population in WSPHN is very diverse and has a variety of challenges, including high levels of chronic and complex care needs. The area is also home to the largest urban Indigenous population in Australia and has numerous areas of disadvantage and one of the most culturally diverse populations in the nation. Partnering and engaging with various parts of the sector will facilitate the development of mutually beneficial activities and initiatives that will contribute to the quadruple aim. They will also ensure education, support, resources and initiatives designed to meet the diverse needs of the community are utilised and maximised.

Consumer and community engagement is a whole of organisation activity for WSPHN. WSPHN programs have consumer and carer engagement embedded into their work including design, commissioning and governance. Consumers are supported through training and development activities for consumers to increase their confidence and effectiveness. Consumer Advisory Committee (CAC) meets on a quarterly basis and represent different areas of the population and health needs.

Consumers and community members are reimbursed for their participation in shared decision making around the plan, design, delivery and evaluation of health services. The WSPHN will continue to partner with Health Consumers NSW (HCNSW) and Consumer Health Forum (CHF) to ensure best practice community engagement and partner with the LHD and SCHN on joint consumer and stakeholder engagement activities to support shared service planning and delivery of health services.

WSPHN will continue to develop and/or disseminate stakeholder information more broadly via the WSPHN website, Community HQ project site, HealthPathways, Healthy Western Sydney, e-newsletters and fact sheets. We will also continue to host and attend community and stakeholder forums to engage key stakeholders and encourage them to have their say by exchanging information about health issues.

Other Program Key Priority Area Description

Aim of Activity *

The key aim of the program is to improve the overall quality of care received in the region by providing Primary Care clinicians with up to date information and guidance on the agreed management of various medical conditions. Utilisation and adherence to the care pathways can:

- * Decrease variations of care in primary care, and unwarranted care,
- * Increase GP capacity to manage patients within the community,
- * Avoid unnecessary hospital admissions and more effectively manage chronic and more, complex care in a community setting,
- * Reduce the number of inappropriate referrals,
- * Improve quality of referrals to specialists,
- * Increase patient access to services.

The corresponding objective of the program is to improve collaboration and coordination across the healthcare sector; specifically, between primary, specialist, and hospital services. Engagement of clinicians throughout the care continuum in the planning and development of care Pathways offers opportunities to:

- * Collaborate on service re-design initiatives,
- * Identify potential service gaps in the region,
- * Strengthen relationships of primary and secondary care providers
- * Build capacity amongst primary care providers to manage a wider range of conditions in the community.

Description of Activity *

HealthPathways is a web-based health informational portal for General Practitioners and other healthcare providers to utilise during a consultation to assist with the assessment, management, and referrals to local specialists and services. It also provides patient information, reference materials, and education resources to increase the capacity for patients to actively assist in the management of their own health.

Pathways are developed by GP Clinical Editors in collaboration with a range of healthcare professionals including; specialists, nurses, and allied health providers. All pathways are periodically reviewed and updated as required by GP Clinical editors.

The commissioned activity includes the provision of technical writing, community fees, website hosting and a sophisticated system to keep track of content in development.
